IRISH AT THE FAIR

September 30 Has Been Designated as Irish Day.

LOCAL HIBERNIANS TO ATTEND

Preparations for Sending 100 Mem-hers of the Order From This City. Will Meet Tonight.

ptember 30 will be Irish day at the d's fair and representatives of the en lale in all sections of the country are making preparations to attend the festival caremonies. The members of the local association of the Ancient Order of Hibernians are already considering plans for a good representation of the order on that day. Daniel Lynch has been appointed a committee to con-suit the railroad companies in regard to rates and he will report at a meeting to be held tonight. The local lodge con-sists of 25 members and it is expected that 100 of them will go to Chicago if satisfactory rates can be obtained. The members can be obtained. The members object to taking a trip across the lake so late in the season on account of the linbility of the visitation of high winds and storage and desire to go by rail if rates are satisfactory. Mr. Lynch by his consultation with the railroad companies has learned that they are uncertain as to whether the cheap rates will be continued during September and cannot give an official statement until after the rates for the month have been established. At the meeting of the Hibernians to be held tonight a proposition will be made to charter a few coaches and run an excursion under the auspices of the order. Some of the ablest and most prominent Irish orators in the United States are on the program for addresses on that day. on that day.

Mayor Stuart's Committee Will Meet Thursday Evening.

Five members of the committee ap-Five members of the committee appointed by the mayor to devise means to aid the unemployed laborers of the city were seen yesterday, but none of them have any plan to suggest regarding the matter to be discussed. Following are their replies to the question, "What will the committee do?"

Judge Champlin: "I saw the mayor today and told him that I could not meet with the committee Thursday, because I have to go out of town. I have no definite idea as to what is best to be done until we get together and talk it

M. M. Shanahan: "I like the idea of Mayor Stuart in appointing the committee. I am heartily in sympathy with the movement, but unfortunately I will be out of town Thursday and cannot attend the first meeting. I have no scheme to propose, but something no doubt will be devised at the meeting."

F. H. Gill: "It is well to propose to do something, for even now should business revive at once there are many who would suffer. I suppose the committee will meet and discuss the matter Thursday, but I do not suppose we will reach any conclusion then."

J. W. Rosenthal: "I will meet with the committee Thursday. I have been making investigations and giving the M. M. Shannhan: "I like the idea of

MR. PATTENGILL'S LECTURE.

He Tells the Teachers About the Interrogation Point.

H. R. Pattengill of Lansing, superintendent of public instruction, was the principal attraction at the teachers' institute yesterday. Mr. Pattengill delivered a lecture which he called "The Interrogation Point," and which was brim full of bright ideas for teachers. Mr. Pattengill make the statement that the three most important factors in Mr. Pattengili made the statement that the three most important factors in American civilization are the railway, the press and the public school. He pictured the evolution of the railroad from the time the first car was built to the great world's fair express of the New York Central. He exalted the world's fair as the type of modern advancement and discussed the possibilities of electricity in the coming civilization. He believed the time is coming when the newspapers and magazines will be laid at the door of the farmers home as they now are at the doors of city residences. now are at the doors of city residences He exhorted the teachers to read the newspapers and periodicals and teach their pupils current history from the papers, rather than to stuff the young monthly with dates and facts about events which are burried in the must and mold of centuries. In closing, Mr. Pattengili paid a pretty tribute to teaching as a referring, discussed the responsibilities of the calling and urged his hearers to be true to the great trust that was given to them. David A. Hammond of Charlotte, a member of the state board of education, was a visitor at the institute is due for careful attention to details and the good judgment exercised in planning and arranging for the best possible results of modern milling.

It is superfluous to go into details regarding the products of the Valley City milling company's mills. Their brands of flour are too well known in western Michigan to need an introduction. Suffice it to say that with their newly equipped mills, if possible, even better qualities of flour will be placed on the market in the future than in the past. market in the future than in the past. The Valley City milling company has no less than nine brands and several specialties, each of which is popular and widely known. Their best known winter wheat brands are Roller Champion, Matchless, Lily White, Enowflake, White Loaf, Harvest Queen and Gold Medal. Only the best grain is purchased and the highest prices are paid for the cereals. In fact everything is done to make the flours from the Valley City Milling Company just what everybody claims they are—the best on the market. Those who once use it always give a second order. No brand of flour in Michigan can extend the "Lily White" for family use. When a fancy palent is desired for pastry use or choice white rolls or cake. "Roller Champion" takes the lead, and is the finest that can be produced. It is simply the cream of the choicest wheat.

In conclusion it is only necessary to state that the "alley City Milling company is one of the most enterprising and prosperous concerns of the city. Its entire property isowned and operated by three of our sell known citizens, C. G. Sweasberg, Merian S. Crosby and William N. Rowe, who are all equally interested in its success. Their business has flourished since its incipiency, each year showing an increase over the preceding twelve months. The improvements so recently made are the most important steps made by the firm during their business career, and it is hoped that the present year's business will far surpass even the most anguine expectations of all interested.

ery which was creeted this summer, work being completed in time to begin with this years fine wheat crop. Few people realize the large amount of business done by the Valley City Milling Company, amply because the gentlemen compoung it believe is constant attention to duty, allowing some one clast to praise its volume of business and speak in glowing terms of its prospects. Unascuming and unpretentious their full roller flouring mile grinds steadily day and night am the amount of poducts turned out each year, if stated, would be of such huge dimensions that the sum would be more than surprising. the sum would be more than surprising. For some month past a thorough and complete change has been taking place within the interior of the mill, each floor has received its chare of attention and as a result, the old Valley City mill in which they began business about 10 years ago, stands today as one of the most thoroughly complete of any to be found in the state. An entire new equipment of machinery has been erected, parts of which have been so placed as to be convenient and laboraving. Visitors to the mill have many surprises in store for them, and are sure to praise the company for the compactness and convenience of every arrangement of the machinery, noticeable throughout the whole structure. A representative of Tax Haradomade a tour through the mills recently and for the benefit of all a brief mention is made of the many and decided and noteworthy improvements of the Valley City Flouring Mills. But first, if at all interested in fine machanical appearances, a personal vieft to this new mill, where

The mills new wheat cleaning machinery with their perfect dust collectors and the bolting system with its complete and systematic arrangement are the very best obtainable regardless of expense. They also have a full line of the Willford and Northway dustless purifiers, and upon stepping into the mill one is surprised to find instead of clouds of dust, rooms that are as clean as the floors of any manufacturing establish. floors of any manufacturing establishment.

Neither care nor expense has been considered by the company in making improvements. They have secured the best machinery to be found, and as a consequence better flouring mills than those this article refers to cannot be found in the State. Mr. Wm. N. Rowe, manager, and Jessie Owen, their head miller, superintended the entire work of reconstruction, and to the much credit is due for careful attention to details and the good judgment exercised in (EUROFRAN FLAN.)
